

Wild Bird Seed Selection

ANS Wild Bird Blend Audubon Naturalist Society's custom blend. Contains Black Oil Sunflower Seed, White Millet, and Split Peanuts. Attracts most feeder birds.

Black Oil Sunflower These seeds are small, have thin shells, and contain high protein content, making them appealing to a wide variety of birds.

Cardinal Blend Contains Oil Type Sunflower Seed, Safflower, Black Stripe Sunflower Seed and is good for other birds, too.

Fruit & Berry Blend This mix appeals to a wide variety of birds. Contains Sunflower Oil Seed, Sunflower Chips, Split Peanuts, Safflower, Tree Nuts, Cherry Flavored Cranberries, Dark Raisins, Hulled Sunflower Chips The advantages of Sunflower Seeds, without the hulls. Many birds can be attracted with Sunflower Chips in a tube feeder.

Nyjer Thistle: This seed is popular with American Goldfinch, but also accepted by Juncos, Sparrows, and Doves. Commonly fed in a Nyjer tube feeder.

Patio/Deck Blend The Deck/ Patio Mix is for a wide variety of birds. Contains Sunflower Chips, Split Peanuts, Hulled Millet. No shells in this mix, so less mess underneath your feeders.

Safflower Used to attract Cardinals, this seed will also be consumed by Song Sparrows, White-Throated and White-Crowned Sparrows. Not as well liked by Squirrels.

Split Peanuts Peanuts provide energy as they are extremely high in oil and calorie content. Peanuts attract Chickadees, Jays, Nuthatches, Titmice, Woodpeckers, and Sparrows.

White Millet A commonly used ingredient in wild bird mixtures. This seed attracts Cardinals, Mourning Doves, Song Sparrows, White-Crowned and White-Throated Sparrows.

Woodpecker Blend Great for Woodpeckers and Nuthatches! Contains Split Peanuts, Tree Nuts, Sunflower Chips, Raisins, Pumpkin Seed, Dried Cranberries.
