02. Footnote for uncertain tax position under FIN 48 (Part X)

The Society follows the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification, which provides guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in the Society's financial statements, if any. As of the current year end, the Society had no unrecognized tax benefits related to uncertain tax positions in its information return that would qualify for either recognition or disclosure in its financial statements.

The Society's policy would be to recognize interest and penalties on tax positions related to its unrecognized tax benefits in income tax expense in the financial statements. Through the fiscal year end, there have been no matters that would have resulted in an accrual for interest and/or penalties. Generally, only the three preceding tax years are subject to examination by federal, state, or local taxing authorities.

Explanation

Conservation - The Audubon Naturalist Society conservation program protects local habitats and clean streams in the DC Metro Region. ANS' conservation outreach brings citizens together to monitor stream health and protect our region's streams and special natural places. ANS oversees the longest running water quality monitoring program in the DC area, through which 175 DC area volunteers test and report on the health of local streams at 29 locations throughout the year. Our conservation campaigns advocate for and promote healthy habitats for people and wildlife, clean water, and environmental stewardship by DC area residents, coalitions, and community groups. Our policy work focuses on limiting negative environmental impacts of development and reducing pollution in local water and air. The ANS Creek Critters outreach and engagement program reached over 1300 people this fiscal year to teach them about stream and watershed health.
